The average rests on some games, not all of them. Minutes ranged from 6 to 34, part of the variance stemming from rotation rather than the player.

To Retain

- Elite Playmaking Vision: Averaging 3.9 assists overall and scaling up to 5.7 assists in the last 3 games, sitting in the 74th percentile among league guards with exceptional consistency in drive-and-kick sequences.
- High-Efficiency Perimeter Threat: Maintaining a 39% success rate from beyond the arc (9/23) across the window, providing reliable spacing when operating off pick-and-rolls.

To Improve

- Turnover Spike in Crunch Time: 59% of total turnovers (10 out of 17) occur in the 4th quarter, killing offensive flow when games tighten.
- Foul Accumulation Rate: Committing 48% of total personal fouls (11 out of 23) in the 4th quarter, forcing defensive passivity or premature exits.
- Two-Point Volume Drop: Efficiency plummeted to 20% (1/5) in the last 3 games down from a 58% (14/24) window baseline, indicating forced finishes in traffic.

3-Week Action Plan

1. 2.7 fouls per game and 48% occurring in the 4th quarter force premature defensive positioning. Action: In isolation defense during the final frame, maintain an arm's length stance instead of reaching. Target: Commit no more than 1 personal foul in the 4th quarter.
2. 1.9 turnovers per game with 10 concentrated in the 4th quarter disrupt late-game possessions. Action: Prioritize two-handed bounce passes on pick-and-roll exits and avoid baseline traps. Target: Keep 4th quarter turnovers under 1 per game.

3. A drop to 20% (1/5) on 2-point attempts in recent outings signals forced drives. Action: Pull up for mid-range floaters or kick out when collapsing defenses contest the rim. Target: Raise 2-point conversion back above 45% on at least 3 attempts per game.
