A 10-game window was chosen because below that the average is too noisy (standard error of 3.2 points in 5 games vs. 2.2 in 10), and above it mixes different periods and roles.

Preserve

- High accuracy finishing drives: The player maintains an 82% (9/11) seasonal and recent average for 2-point shots, data indicating smart shot selection and efficient finishing in the paint as the core center of the point guard role.
- Increase in offensive contribution and freedom of action: In the last 3 games, the PIR index climbed to 18.7 alongside 5.0 assists, indicating consistency in game management when the minutes volume increased to 25.7 on average.

Improve

- Low volume in outside shooting: With only 29% (2/7) beyond the arc in the window, the volume is not enough to establish a consistent threat; you must create at least 3 open outside shots per game to widen the opponent's defensive spacing.
- Curbs on turnovers during high-load minutes: 4 turnovers were recorded in quarters 2 and 4 out of 4 total turnovers on the event axis, which hurts team stability; your goal is to reduce turnovers to less than 1.5 per game by passing faster under pressure.
- Foul management in closing stages: Fouls are concentrated in the late quarters (67% of fouls in quarter 4), including two fouls in the final minutes of the 2026-09-23 game; the goal is to finish games with a maximum of one foul in the second half.

3-Week Plan

- 1. The biggest lever: 5.0 assists in the last 3 games indicate proven passing ability. Action: Execute a quick pick-and-roll and release the first pass to the open player in the first 4 seconds of the possession. Goal: Maintain at least 4.5 assists per game without exceeding 2 turnovers.
- 2. 29% (2/7) on three-pointers indicate a tiny volume that does not allow a long-distance threat. Action: Take at least 3 focused three-pointers from the corner arc or following a pull-up dribble from individual shooting practice. Goal: Raise the outside shot volume to 3 per evening while maintaining over 30% success.
- 3. 2 personal fouls in quarter 4 in recent games hurt your availability on the floor. Action: In individual defense during closing minutes, keep hands up and avoid making contact on the climbing line. Goal: Finish the final quarter with no more than one foul.
