To Preserve

- Sustained efficiency beyond the arc: The player demonstrates significantly high shooting percentages on 3-pointers with 51% (25/49) on the window average, and an improvement to 62% (8/13) in the last 3 games (99th percentile in the league).
- High offensive output on good nights: Ability to reach a high performance ceiling of 28.5 PIR at peak, alongside a strong scoring average of 13.1 per game in the window (81st percentile).

To Improve

- Sharp fluctuations in contribution level: The data shows a floor of only 1.5 PIR in a quarter of the games, which indicates disappearing on some nights and harming team stability over 10 games.
- Foul accumulation in crunch time: 38% of all fouls (13 out of 34) are committed in the fourth quarter, endangering his presence on the court in decisive minutes (average fouls of 3.4 per game, 2nd percentile).
- Maintaining turnover pace: An average of 1.7 turnovers per game (which rose to 2.0 in the last 3 games), with turnovers distributed evenly across all quarters of the game and creating stops in offensive momentum.

3-Week Plan

1. Reducing fourth-quarter fouls: When defending an opposing player in Q4, maintain an arm's length distance without unnecessary physical contact. Goal: Finish the next 3 games with no more than 1 foul combined in Q4.
2. Increasing 3-point shot volume: In light of the high accuracy percentage of 51% (25/49), create at least 6 outside shots on average per game following hand-offs/screens. Goal: Maintain a minimum of 45% accuracy on the increased volume.
3. Focus and passing management: Reduce ball turnovers in transition offense by making simple and direct passes. Goal: Drop to an average of up to 1 turnover per game in the upcoming 3 matchups.
